MURRAY

GOES BEFORE
TERRITORIAL
GRAND JURY

CORONER'S JURY VERDICT ABSURD, SAYS ATTORNEY

At his own request, Supervisor Harry Murray went to the territorial grand jury at 1:30 o'clock this afternoon to make a full and frank statement of the circumstances surrounding the killing of Timoteo Hernandez, Porto Rican, last Monday morning, and of the auto party which played such a tragic part in the fatal accident.

Up to the time the Bulletin went to press, it was doubtful whether Murray would be called upon to give his statement. Several witnesses were waiting to be heard. Police Surgeon Emerson was called in to make a statement, presumably as to the physical condition of the man's body, along the lines of his testimony to the coroner's jury.

Murray's statement to the grand jury will be the same statement as that given exclusively in the Bulletin yesterday, and the same he made yesterday afternoon before the coroner's jury that investigated the accident.

In spite of public feeling that there should be no leaning toward undue leniency in dealing with those responsible for the accident in which a man lost his life, the verdict of the coroner's jury to the effect that Hernandez came to his death by a "blow on the head" and that the "blow was delivered by one, Harry E. Murray," came as a surprise to those who had listened to the testimony.

The testimony, showed that Murray swept out his arm to push the man away from possible injury, and the verdict of the jury is generally regarded as absurd so that the inference of a "blow" is plain. In other words, the verdict is interpreted as condemning Murray for a "blow" while the testimony showed that he tried to avert the accident and all the witnesses testified to this except Bolin, whose own words were that he thought a blow had been struck because of the position of Murray's body and arms after the machine had passed.

FREAR CHARGES ARE HEARD

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 4.—Secretary of the Interior Fisher today gave Delegate Kuhio a hearing on the charges he has preferred against Governor Frear. The Delegate presented an elaboration of the charges already made public, details being supplied to back up the statements he makes. Until the charges have been carefully considered, no announcement of a gubernatorial appointment is likely.

C. S. ALBERT.

HAWAII'S GOVERNOR FIRST TO EXTEND GREETINGS TO SUN FO

Governor Frear this morning extended his felicitations to Sun Fo, son of the president of the Chinese Republic, and thus became the first American governor to extend New Year greetings to a member of the family of Dr. Sun.

Sun Fo, accompanied by Rev. Frank W. Damon and Tse Wah Kwok, principal of the Chinese High School and editor of the Liberty News, called upon the Governor this morning to pay his respects. Mr. Sun leaves for China on the Chiyo Maru. The Governor received the young man most cordially, having an especial interest in him because he is in all respects an island boy, having been born on Maui and educated in the schools of Hawaii. He graduated last year with honors from St. Louis College. The Governor also extended, through the son, greetings to Dr. Sun, who has long been known by reputation to most everyone in Hawaii.

From the Governor's office the young man and his friends went to Washington Place, where they were most graciously received by Her Majesty Queen Liliuokalani.

The queen knew Dr. Sun and was deeply interested in the young man, who goes soon to join his father. She was very interested to learn that Sun Fo was born at Kamole, Kula, Maui, in 1892, during her reign as queen of Hawaii.

Sun Fo carries himself with becoming modesty in the various social functions of which he is the center, and there is no doubt that he will be deeply impressed with the fact that the heartiest of good-will goes out from all classes in Hawaii to his father and his associates in the great work they are doing in China.

Dole May Sit

Judge Sanford B. Dole is quite ready to try the Mahuka site condemnation suit if Attorney General Wickersham wishes him to. Some months ago he wrote to Washington telling the attorney general that if necessary Mrs. Dole would sell her shares in E. O. Hall & Son and thus remove the disqualification from Judge Dole. So far nothing has been heard from the attorney general, however.

"I do not know anything about it," said Judge Dole this morning, "beyond the fact that I wrote to Attorney General Wickersham some months ago and have not yet received any answer. Mrs. Dole will sell her shares if necessary and thus remove the disqualification from me."

"It all lies in the hands of the attorney general, however, and it may be that he will think that I am biased and will send some one else here to try the case. All I can do is to wait until I hear from Washington."

United States District Attorney Robert W. Breckons has had no word.

"All I know is what I saw in the Bulletin yesterday afternoon," he said this morning, "and as I have not had a cable myself I suppose that it will not be until the mail arrives that I shall hear anything more."

So far the exclusive information given in the special cable to the Bulletin yesterday afternoon seems to be the only news that has reached Honolulu. None of the officials who are connected with the matter have as yet received any word, but some of them expect to hear by the mail next week. Owing to such a state of affairs existing no information is available as to what will be the first step taken in the matter or as to what judge will try the case.

The law reads that if none of the judges here are qualified that a man may be brought in from some other part of the circuit. There is a further provision that if none of the judges in the circuit can attend to the matter the chief justice may appoint a judge from an outside circuit.

Portugal Catholics Rebelling

(Associated Press Cable.)
LISBON, Portugal, Jan. 4.—The Catholic bishops here today proclaimed the independence of the church and the government as the result of the expulsion of the patriarch Bello.

Four thousand Republicans routed 10,000 Catholics assembled at the patriarchate. Troops were called to quell the rioting, in which many people were injured.

Union St. Buildings To Go Up

Announcement was made this morning that William Walters will erect in the immediate future two store and office buildings of considerable size on his Union street property, and with this announcement the building development of this section of the city, held back for more than two years by failure to settle the matter of the Bishop street opening, is now precipitated.

Mr. Walters will have the buildings put up irrespective of action on the opening of Bishop street and closing of Union street. The announcement of his building policy follows the issuance of a temporary injunction in the Circuit Court yesterday restraining the territorial land commissioner from selling 1524 square feet of Union street property. This is the piece of land that the Brewer Estate was to get to complete its own building plans.

Architect H. L. Kerr has been secured by Mr. Walters to plan the buildings, and that Mr. Walters intends to put them up without delay is evident from the fact that excavation will start within a week, and by the time the plans and specifications are ready, the excavation should be complete.

It is apparent that Mr. Walters is tired of the long and repeated delays that have occurred in the plan for opening Bishop street, closing Union street and thus straightening out the thoroughfare problem of this part of the city. After his return from Europe recently, he found out that no progress toward carrying out this plan had been made and meanwhile his own valuable property was lying almost idle.

The two buildings will be an exterior and interior building. The former fronting on Union street, just above the ten-foot alley between the Brewer Estate property and the Walters property. The exterior building will have a frontage of 158 feet on Union street and will be forty-two feet deep. Between this and the interior building there will be a drive-way. The Union street front will be divided into six stories, the upstairs being available for lodging-house and office purposes. The upstairs is to be connected by hallways with the interior building.

Both buildings are to be two stories in height and built of concrete. The interior building, first floor, is to be cut up into small stores, suitable for plumbers, painters and other similar purposes. Eight-foot basements will be allowed.

The two buildings will have some 12,000 square feet of floor space on the first floor, and the cost of the whole will not fall far short of $50,000.

FEW IMMIGRANTS NOW AT STATION

One hundred and forty-six more immigrants left the territorial station today, bound for various plantations, and with the going of the last bunch to Kauai this evening, only fifty-five are left. However, tomorrow there will probably be found hundred more released from Federal quarantine, and these will move right into the territorial quarters until they too go to their new homes.

Puunene gets 73 of those leaving today; Kukuhaele 26, Paauilo 13, and 17 went to Wailua.

The new station has proved itself well adapted for the immigrant work, said Dr. Clark yesterday. A number of small improvements in detail are needed, but on the whole the immigrants can be handled expeditiously and with much comfort to themselves.

ATTORNEYS FOR CHINESE ATTACK LEGISLATURE'S "MULLET LAW"

Charging that the law covering the fishing of "amama," or mullet, from any of the waters within the Territory of Hawaii is unconstitutional and unjust, in that it allows certain people to fish for or take mullet from any of the waters while it prohibits others from exercising the same right and privilege, J. L. Coke, appearing for certain Chinese in Police Court, this morning demurred to the wording of the complaint prepared by the prosecution. He read laws covering the point to Judge Monsarrat, before whom the defendants appeared today for trial.

He said that section 1 of Act 3 of the Session Laws of 1911 is ambiguous, unintelligible and unjust, because it is contrary to the Organic Act.

The section under which the Chinese were arrested reads thus:

"Act 3, Section 1.—That it shall be unlawful for any person to fish for or take, or be engaged in the fishing for or taking from any of the waters within said Territory, except as hereinafter provided: Amama, during any time from December 1 to March 1, inclusive, in any year.

"And it shall be likewise unlawful for any person to expose or offer for sale, to have in possession for the purpose of exposing or offering for sale, any amama during or within any of the times stated in this section; provided, however, that the prohibition of this section against the fishing for or taking amama shall not extend or be contrary to the Organic Act."

PLUMMER OFF TO 8 STOWAWAYS IN SEE PANAMA WORK BUNCH COME ON MAKURA

To study the big dredging operations in the Canal Zone, H. G. Plummer, superintendent of the Pearl Harbor channel work for the Hawaiian Dredging Co. since March, 1910, left yesterday for Panama via San Francisco.

Mr. Plummer has not severed his connection with the local concern. On the contrary, it is partly in the interests of his work here that he is making the trip.

"He has worked like a slave for more than a year and a half," said Walter Dillingham in speaking of Plummer's vacation this morning. "and with the completion of the work in sight we thought him entitled to a vacation. He was anxious to see the canal work, and intends to sail as soon as possible from San Francisco for Panama."

"Plummer has done splendid work at Pearl Harbor," continued Mr. Dillingham. "His ingenuity got us out of some very tight places. It was he who invented the drag scraper dredge Gaylord, when it was found that nothing we had would work satisfactorily in a heavy sea. He also got up the big six-ton sweep that quickly and economically swept the channel for us. We are now counting in days, not weeks or months, to the completion of the Pearl Harbor job. A few high spots to come off and the work will be done. We expect to start the Kahului dredging about April 1, and Plummer will be back again to take hold of the new project."

Honolulu Arrived from Seattle.

The Malson Navigation steamer Honolulu from Seattle and Tacoma with a large general cargo and a dozen passengers was an arrival off the port shortly after one o'clock this afternoon. The vessel came alongside Oceanic wharf to discharge.

Don has made everyone keener and more interested in the work."

The California and West Virginia were coaling at the navy dock this morning. Each ship is taking on about 800 tons, and it is expected that the job will be completed by evening.

NON-COMS CAN CONTINUE DUTIES

The non-commissioned officers who are acting as agents of the Board of Health in the clean-up campaign, will be able to serve for another month. This morning cable authority was received from Western Division headquarters, in San Francisco, approving the request for another month's furlough for any of the non-coms who desired it.

Under the regulations the Department of Hawaii was able to grant a month's furlough and a one-month extension. But the matter of a third month's leave had to come through division channels. It is believed that about twenty men will take advantage of this permission. This includes practically all the men still retained on the rolls of the Board of Health.

FLEET EXPECTS TO SAIL NEXT SATURDAY

Preparations to sail for the Coast come time Saturday, according to the original orders, are being made throughout the Pacific fleet. There now prevails a belief that had it been intended to hold the cruisers here it would be to send them to the Far East, a modification of orders would have been received before this. Therefore both officers and men are making their personal plans to leave Saturday.

Everybody in the fleet has had a good time in Honolulu. On every ship
